Bio:

I have been at Kennedy Space Center as a contractor for NASA as an Engineering Programmer for approximately 17 years, a member of NASA's Disability Awareness and Action Working Group, improving the work environment for personnel who are differently able, and a member of NASA's Speakers Bureau for the last 10 years. Three years ago I became a full time member of NASA's Speakers' Bureau.

My position as an Engineer Programmer was such an amazing experience as my job was to identify solutions for repairs to bridges, roads, mechanical systems, roofs, elevators, and any environmental issues. The greatest part of this was it gave me access to everything on KSC...Launch Complexes, Launch Control Center, Vehicle Assembly Building, Orbiter Processing Facilities, Space Station Processing Facility, Mars Simulation Testing Area, just to mention a few...
